Scammers Are Impersonating Road Toll Collection Services in Text Message Scam

Fraudsters are impersonating toll collection services, trying to trick consumers into paying for fake outstanding tolls. They may even use AI technology to create more convincing fake websites or personalized messages to include your personal information. It's important to note that a state's Department of Transportation will never provide or ask for personal information by email or text.

One Connecticut resident reported on BBB's Scam Tracker that they received the following text message, "Toll payment for ezpass lane must be settled by march 14 2025 to avoid fines and suspension of your driving privileges kindly pay by due date. Pay Here :https://e-zpass.rzxxg.shop/us Please reply with Y then exit the text message. Open it again click the link or copy it into your safari browser and open it."

How the scam works

If you click the link, you may be asked for sensitive personal information, like your Social Security number. If you proceed and provide your personal and payment information on the website, scammers could now have access to that information, and you may have lost some money.

BBB Scam Tracker has received over 800 reports of text messages that appear to be from toll-collection services. Out of those reports, Florida Turnpike's Sunpass was the most spoofed.

Other consumers have shared text messages reportedly received from EZDriveMA is Massachusetts. This scam doesn't exclusively target drivers, meaning everyone—drivers and non-drivers alike—should stay informed to avoid falling victim.

How to avoid text message phishing scams

• Verify your outstanding toll balance with the legitimate agency. Instead of clicking on the link in the text message, go to your web browser, find the toll service's actual website, and log in to your account to verify if you have any outstanding toll payments, or call the toll service's customer service line (not the number in the text message).

• Know the warning signs of a fake text. If you receive an unusual text message, especially originating from an out of country area code, there are several things to look for to help you identify if it's fake. Read BBB's tips on spotting the red flags of fake text messages.

• Don't give out your personal information like your birthdate or Social Security number unless you are 100% certain you're talking with a legitimate person or agency.

• Block the number and delete the message.

Report this scam to BBB Scam Tracker to help warn others.

LOOKING FOR A DEVELOPER with experience in C++ to complete a project in progress. The project is compiled with Clang, but relies on CMake to make it run on Macs, and MSVC compiler for running in Windows environments. The written code has been tested on Mac systems; it'll need testing in Windows. Originally developed in QT5, this application will need to be updated to QT6. Conan is used for the project management. Knowledge of publishing layout will be an asset. Possible other projects after completion of this one. For more information, contact Sabrina Fobes, 207-452-2476 or email: sfobes@merrsoft.com
