Music Bingo Raises Thousands For North Haven Public Schools

North Haven: Some 140 supporters of North Haven public schools "Walked like an Egyptian", "Heard it Through the Grapevine" and so much more as they played Music Bingo at the recent autumn fundraiser for the North Haven Educational Foundation.

The event raised more than $3,000 for educational projects and programs, while providing a fun night out at the Knight of Columbus in Hamden.

Anthony Apuzzo, of Digital Tracks Entertainment, spun tunes for two hours as guests searched their bingo cards for the song titles, sang along, and noshed snacks. Three people went home winners, having scored hundreds in prize money.

Proceeds from ticket sales will help continue the foundation's mission to encourage and support educators' enrichment initiatives by funding educational programs that cannot be met by the town's limited school budget.

Since the start of this year, the foundation has approved funding for a drone project for middle school students, a mobile podcast platform for high school students, flexible seating for a science classroom, and a sound system at the football field to name a few programs. Most of the grant proposals come from local educators in North Haven public schools and are reviewed on a rolling basis by the Grant Committee before they are brought to the full board for discussion and a vote.

The next foundation fundraising event will be a Trivia Night on April 30, 2027. For more on the foundation, visit https://nhedfoundation.org/
