Get the Buzz About Bees Presented By Paula Wolf

North Haven: You may not have a hive of honeybees on your property, but hopefully these bees make frequent visits to your gardens. They need to gather pollen to bring to their hives, and to spread pollen to other plants so flowers and vegetables can grow. Honeybees have an amazing social life and their own communication system. Come get the buzz about bees with our speaker, Paula Wolf.

Paula Wolf serves as Connecticut's State Apiarist, where she champions the health and resilience of honeybee populations statewide. A passionate advocate for pollinators, she partners with beekeepers to tackle real-world challenges - from disease and pests to environmental stressors - bringing practical expertise and energy to her work. Paula's approachable style and deep knowledge make her a trusted resource and an engaging voice in the bee.

The program will be held on Tuesday, April 28, 2026, from 11:00 AM until noon at the North Haven Recreation Center, 7 Linsley Street, North Haven. Guests are welcome. A $5.00 guest donation is appreciated. Please call Daytime Gardeners at 203-239-1557 to register for the meeting.

New members are always welcome. For information on our activities and membership, email proto.mary@yahoo.com, and be sure to visit us on Facebook at Daytime Gardeners of North Haven.
