Edward Smith Library To Reopen Aug. 5

Northford: The Edward Smith Library will reopen to the public on Wed., August 5, after being closed since May to replace the building's heating and air conditioning system.

Smith Library, at 3 Old Post Road, Northford, has served the community since 1956 in its current location.

The Town of North Branford was awarded a $1 million state grant in 2025 through the Small Town Economic Assistance Program (STEAP) to make improvements to the failed HVAC equipment.

The upgraded system features new ductwork, controls and an energy recovery system, to improve overall energy efficiency. The HVAC installation was managed by Air Temp Mechanical Services, Inc.

Smith is one of two libraries in North Branford. During the closure, patrons could visit the Atwater Library, 1720 Foxon Road, North Branford.

With the renovation complete, both libraries will be open Mon.-Thurs., 10am-8pm; Friday, 10am-5pm; Saturday, 9am-noon (9am-3pm in winter); closed Sunday.

Library staff are eager and excited to welcome patrons back to Smith Library.
