Spring 2025: YCC Comedy Night
When the Yale College Council called for comedic backup, they didn't mess around. Headliner Malik Elassal (or, Samir on Adults) filled Marsh with laughter, but Yalies held their own. Between the unhinged bits from Red Hot Poker, improv games from The Purple Crayon, and the sheer chaos of The Viola Question, the night proved one thing: Yale students might be stressed, but at least we can take (and make) a joke.
