Greater New Haven Probus Club Awards Grants To Special Educators

New Haven: Greater New Haven Probus completes its fourth year of granting $500 each to Special Educators, by giving out 19 grants this year, as this program grows from year to year. Thanks to: Conte jewelers, Moses Insurance Advisors, Comedy professor Joyce Saltman, Atty. Jon Biller, Atty. Ed Botwick, William Kegeles and others who have offered sponsorship for these grants.

These funds are used by the educators to improve the learning capabilities of their special needs students. The funds offered are direct to the educators as their school budgets may not cover some of their requirements to enhance classroom experiences.

Probus has been around since 1921, and this is ONE of its many community support programs. Information may be requested about Probus by emailing us at Gnhavenprobus@gmail.com. Our volunteer membership works diligently throughout the year, donating Bombas socks, clothing, and funds (when available) to improve the quality of living for homeless, at-risk families, veterans in conjunction with community agencies supporting these groups.
