

PUBLIC NOTICE

Please take notice that a public information session will be held in connection with a proposal by New Cingular Wireless PCS LLC ("AT&T") for development of a wireless telecommunications tower facility located at 356 Old Maple Avenue in the Town of North Haven. The public information session will be held at the Mildred A. Wakeley Community and Recreation Center (7 Linsley Street, North Haven, CT 06473) on Thursday, October 22, 2026 at 6:00 p.m.

This wireless telecommunications tower facility is proposed to meet AT&T's and other FCC wireless carriers' need to reliably serve the public in the immediate area. The proposed location for the tower facility is located on the western portion of an approximately 0.89-acre parcel, owned by Berken LLC. The proposed facility would consist of a 150' tall self-supporting monopole, with a lightning rod extending above the top of the pole to approximately 154', located within a fenced compound in the western section of the property.

AT&T's antennas would be placed at a centerline height of approximately 146' above grade level with a walk-in equipment cabinet and 30 kW emergency backup generator located within the compound on an elevated steel platform. The tower would also be designed to accommodate three additional FCC-licensed wireless carriers. Vehicle access to the facility would be provided from Old Maple Avenue via the existing driveway and a new gravel access drive, with underground utility connections extending from the existing utility infrastructure along Old Maple Avenue.

The Connecticut Siting Council has exclusive jurisdiction over the location and siting of wireless telecommunications towers in the State of Connecticut and as such, no local zoning or land use approvals are required. The public information session that is the subject of this notice is being held as part of AT&T's municipal consultation with the Town of North Haven in accordance with Section 16-50l of the Connecticut General Statutes. The purpose of the municipal consultation is to provide information to the Town about the proposed facility so that the Town can provide AT&T with recommendations or preferences regarding the siting of the proposed wireless telecommunications facility.

Hamden Art League To Host Renowned Ct Artist For Free Live Painting Demonstration

Hamden: The Hamden Art League will host professional artist and popular instructor Shauna Shane for a free, live presentation titled "Painting Successful Landscapes in Oil" on Tuesday, October 13, 2026, at 7:00 PM. The educational event is open to the public and will take place in the Social Hall at Hamden Senior Citizens Services, located inside the Miller Memorial Library Complex at 2901 Dixwell Ave, Hamden, CT 06518.

During this unique demonstration, Shane will share her creative process, explaining how to reduce complicated natural scenery into a simple, effective composition. Attendees will learn techniques for blocking in a canvas for the highest chance of success, alongside live discussions on planning artistic design, mastering light and shadow, and identifying negative shapes. Shane will also guide the audience through her real-time decision-making process, including how she handles unavoidable corrections on a developing canvas.
