Local Shows & Exhibits

"CHILDREN DRAW WAR, NOT FLOWERS" is the latest exhibit at Southern Connecticut State University's Hilton C. Buley Library, located at 377 Fitch Street, New Haven. The exhibition features more than 60 drawings created by Ukrainian children between the ages of 6 and 18, offering a raw emotional portrayal of war, trauma, displacement, and hope. Originally consisting of over 450 works, the exhibit has been shown at institutions across the country, amplifying the voices of children living through conflict. In 2022, the Cherkasy Regional Univeral Scientific Library, named after Taras Shevchenko, held a drawing competition, "Children Draw War, Not Flowers", engaging children from internally displaced communities. The initiator of this competition, Dr. Ulia Gosart, will be returning to Southern Connecticut State University for a three-day campus residency from October 6 - 8. A 2005 graduate of Southern's Information and Library Science program, Ms. Gosart will be at the exhibit on October 6, from 1-3pm, when she will be a engaging with visitors and answering questions. The exhibition is open during Library hours: Sunday, 2-10pm; Mon.-Thurs., 8am-10pm; Friday, 8am-4:30pm; and Saturday, 12 noon-5pm.

GNHCP is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization committed to humanely addressing feline overpopulation through rescue, care, education, and outreach.

From Pets to Wildlife: Be Kind to Animals

The Greater New Haven Cat Project (GNHCP), Inc. in partnership with Green Chimneys, is excited to host From Pets to Wildlife: Be Kind to Animals on Saturday, April 11, from 1-3pm at GNCHP's new center, located at 1874 Middletown Ave., Northford.

This free, interactive educational event invites community members of all ages to explore what it means to foster a humane attitude and respect for animals—from beloved household pets to local wildlife. Through engaging, hands-on activities and thoughtful discussion, participants will learn practical ways to promote kindness, responsibility, and compassion in their everyday lives.

The program will feature Leslie Roe, Volunteer Coordinator at Green Chimneys, who will lead activities and share insights on cultivating empathy and care for animals within our communities.

Admission is free. Children ages 10 and older are welcome when accompanied by a parent or guardian.

For more information, please contact rise@gnhcp.org or (203) 782-2287.
