Keep Calm and Carry On:
Thoughts On Cemetery Etiquette

A cemetery is a quiet, reflective place of peace and rest. Many cemeteries are a public place where all are welcome. Most cemeteries have rules for visitors, often found on their website or posted at entrances. To start, keep conversations and music at low levels to respect other visitors. Drive under the posted limit, keep the stereo low or off, don't park on the grass, and leave room for other cars to pass. Don't step on the graves or touch any headstones. Stay on designated paths and don't remove anything placed on a grave (smaller children are easily tempted). A smile or nod to another mourner is fine, but don't become too friendly with strangers who may need their space.

The funeral home is an important part of any community. In addition to providing a variety of necessary services to the community such as burial services, cremation services, memorial services and celebrations of life, funeral homes also serve as resources for those grieving the loss of a loved one. To learn about our services, please call North Haven Funeral Home at 203-239-1179. We are located at 36 Washington Avenue.

OBITUARIES

Joseph "Joe" Carbone, 81, of Wallingford, passed away peacefully on Saturday, April 25, 2026, at Mid-state Medical Center. He was born in New Haven on September 11, 1944, the son of the late Joseph Carbone and Lillian Ippolito Carbone. Joseph grew up in Hamden where he graduated as class president from Hamden High School. He settled in Wallingford where he lived for fifty-eight years.

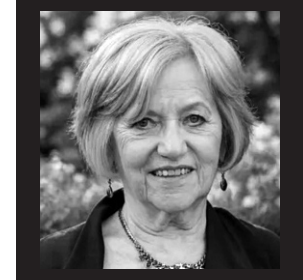

Joseph was a devout husband to his wife Deanna Lattanzi Carbone with whom he would have celebrated fifty-nine years of marriage this May. In addition, he is survived by his two sons, Gregory Carbone of Washington Township, NJ, and Eric Carbone of Wallingford, both of whom he was deeply proud of. He also adored his daughters-in-law Gina Carbone of NJ and Mariza Carbone of Wallingford and his four grandchildren Marisa Carbone, Jamie Carbone, Joseph Carbone, and Daniel Carbone.

Additionally, he is survived by his older brother Anthony Carbone of Scottsdale, AZ and his wife Patricia Carbone along with his nephew Christopher Carbone of AZ and Carolyn Carbone of NY. He leaves behind his sister-in-law Marilyn Lattanzi of West Hartford, his nephew Mark Lattanzi of MA and niece Michele Paul of West Hartford.

Should friends desire, gifts in his memory may be sent to: Alzheimer's Association Connecticut Chapter, 10 Executive Drive, Suite 202, Farmington, CT 06032 or online at www.alz.org/ct
