Democrat David Cohen Announces Campaign for North Haven Third Selectman

Democrat David Cohen recently announced his campaign for a seat on the North Haven Board of Selectmen, challenging twelve year incumbent Sally Buemi for the Democratic nomination to serve on the town board.

A husband, father, North Haven volunteer firefighter, North Haven small business owner, and in-house counsel for a Connecticut-based Fortune 500 manufacturing company, David promises to bring new energy, new ideas, and a new set of experiences to the North Haven Board of Selectmen.

Cohen was an outspoken supporter of the town's new budget, approved via townwide referendum by nearly a 2 to 1 margin, which will provide critical new funding for North Haven public schools, police and fire departments, and other essential town services and programs. In contrast, Buemi was a vocal opponent of the budget and even criticized the local PTA and parents for encouraging people to vote, suggesting the PTA's distribution of popsicles that day somehow inappropriately swayed voters to support the budget referendum.

Cohen's priorities go far beyond the town budget and referendum. As the next Democratic Selectman, he will bring his unique set of skills and experiences to Town Hall to help grow North Haven's local economy, support our small businesses, keep our families safe with investments in public safety, protect our vibrant quality of life, and most importantly, work to build a stronger community.

Cohen, who is also a member of the local North Haven Democratic Town Committee, announced his campaign to voters with a campaign video, found on his newly launched campaign website, davidcohenct.com, where North Haven residents can learn more about the campaign and get involved. Voters can also stay connected to the campaign via social media @davidcohenct on Instagram and Facebook and by signing up for campaign updates on the website.

The North Haven Democratic Town Committee is scheduled to select its party nominee on July 15th and the Democratic primary is scheduled for Tuesday, September 9, with early voting occurring between September 2-7.
