

Wallingford Garden Club Presents 'How I Grow' At The Wallingford Public Library

Wallingford: The Wallingford Garden Club with Wallingford Public Library presented the spring children's program 'How I Grow' (A story of plants life cycle book by Natalie Anne.) About 20 children gathered in the Children's Room to enjoy fun songs with Josh le Blanc (WPL program coordinator) and Alberta Flynn, WGC Youth Chairperson. She read the book 'How I Grow' and 'Look, Flowers'.

The craft tables were set with colorful tablecloths, planting tools and gloves for the children to plant petunias into pots using potting soil. Such a fun project and enjoyed by all. Goody bags included a wonderful book called 'The Amazing Life Cycle of Plants'.

WGC members assisting in this project were Shirley Hall, Judy Sirois, Kathy Bryson, Joellen Nellums and Charlotte Nesdale. Photos by Betty Wilson.

The Wallingford Garden Club is a member of the Federated Garden Clubs on CT, Inc., New England Garden Clubs, Inc., and National Garden Club, Inc.

Lions Day At The UN

Hamden: The 47th annual Lions Day with the United Nations was held on Friday, March 21, 2025 in New York City. "The Future of Service" was the theme for this year's event.

Lions Day with the United Nations highlights how Lions and Leos around the world work together to achieve our shared goals with the United Nations.

The Day was hosted by event chair Al Brandel, the past Lions International President who is presently appointed representative to the United Nations. The current Lions International President Fabricio Oliveira attended the festivities coming from his home in Paraiba, Brazil. A heart touching tribute was presented to the members by Past President Lions International Jim Ervin in recognition of President Jimmy Carter and his dedication to Lions International. President Carter's commitment to the Lions has been an inspiration to Lions around the World.

Lions International is the largest membership-based service club organization in the world. Our 1.4 million members are serving locally and globally to help take on some of the biggest challenges facing humanity. For more information on how you can join the Hamden Lions Club contact Natalie 203-215-3126.

Quinnipiac Big Event Day

Wallingford: Quinnipiac University students participated in The Big Event at the annual spring clean up at the Wallingford Senior Center's Agnes B Campos Bird and Butterfly Garden. The Agnes B Campos Bird and Butterfly Garden was initiated by Roman Mrozinski, former director of the Southwest Conservation and CT Master Gardeners.

The garden was prepped by Roman Mrozinski with the cutting back of the appropriate shrubs and ornamental grasses to be cleaned and deposited for Wallingford Public Works pickup and disposal. WSC director Bill Viola coordinated the event with Quinnipiac and supervisory support from Roman Mrozinski and Wallingford Garden Club member Ellie Tessmer.

This year 10 QU students participated in the clean up: Sr: Min Suh Ospgiek, Psychology; So: Avery Juhria, Nursing; Sr: Ryan Sliger, Engineer; Fr: Joseph Saundes: Engineer; Fr: Beckett DeMaio Stone: Engineer; Jr: Mason Kleiner: Health Services; Fr: Conner Kass: Engineer; Jr: Gavin Grim: Engineer; Fr: Ella Booth: Psychology; Jr: Matthew Sheehy: Engineer.

Pamela Johnson, QU Student Affairs Office came by to visit the group with staff photographer.
