Fresh cuts given at barbershop pop-up

By Carly Russell
Photo Editor

On April 8, University Access programs sponsored a pop-up barber shop on campus. Students had the opportunity to take a break from classes, enjoy free pizza, listen to music and of course receive a free haircut if they wanted. The event was held in Engleman Hall Room 121 AB and was open to all students.

Photos: Carly Russell

Business management major Lucas Quiroga, a sophomore, getting his hair cut.

Local barber Robert Means trims sophomore graphic design major Benjamin Frazer's hair.

PHOTOS | CARLY RUSSELL

Political science majors La'Nya Prescott and Noeli Jeudi, freshmen, pose with Assistant Director of University Access Programs, Bernard Macklin.

Means finishing up Quiroga's haircut.

Students gather for a Hello Kitty themed soirée

Graduate student Liz Merkt waits for her turn to guess how many bows are in the jar.

By Carly Russell
Photo Editor

On April 8 in the Adanti Student Center Room 217, ProCon hosted a Hello Kitty themed soirée. Sweets, small toys and crafts were available while supplies lasted. Attending students also had the opportunity to compete for prizes.

Photos: Carly Russell

See full story on page 3.

PHOTOS | CARLY RUSSELL

Craft supplies available at the event.

Students fill goodie bags with snacks and toys.

Nursing major Mercies Owusu, a freshman, making a beaded bracelet.