PHOTOS

Students gather in Buley for election night

Carly Russell
Photo Editor

On the ground floor of Buley Library on Nov. 8, students and members of the community gathered to watch the election results unfold. As they waited to see who would trend towards becoming the 47th president of the United States, students chatted, relaxed, played games and completed puzzles to pass the time. The event saw a large turnout and represented the strong bond within the community here at the university.

Students and faculty gathered on the ground floor of Buley Library to watch live election results.

PHOTOS | LILY RAND

Nursing major Janele Lawrence, business administration major Isaiah Lawrence-Bynum, sociology major La'Nya Prescott and business administration major Ismael Valdivieso Jr., freshmen.

Students completing a puzzle at the watch party.

Interim President Dwayne Smith watching with students and faculty.

Mini aquariums with Programs Council

PHOTOS | CARLY RUSSELL

Biology major Craig Huydic, a Programs Council employee, handing out aquarium kits to students.

By Carly Russell
Photo Editor

On Monday, Nov. 4, the Programs Council hosted an event allowing students to design their own aquariums. Students who RSVPd to the event recieved a real fish and an aquarium set up kit. Those who did not RSVP were able to decorate mini aquariums for the chance to win a prize.

Biology major Zakai Roebuck, a freshman.

Betta fish given to students for their aquariums.

Students putting their aquariums together.