PHOTOS

University celebrates Martin Luther King Jr.

By Carly Russell
Photo Editor

On Feb. 5, the university held the Martin Luther King Jr. Unity Lecture, featuring keynote speaker David W. Robinson-Morris. The event was open to students and the public.

Photos: Wade Barillaro

See full story on pg. 2

Attendees listen at the Unity Lecture.

PHOTO | WADE BARILLARO

Keynote speaker David W. Robinson-Morris.

Interim President Dwayne Smith opening the Unity Lecture.

Robinson-Morris speaking to the crowd.

First Women in STEM Excellence club mixer

PHOTO | CARLY RUSSELL

WISE eboard members, earth science major Katelyn Alix, a senior, Professor Christine Broadbridge, chemistry and sociology major Riley Ocasio and chemistry major Ingrid Pomaquiza, seniors and physics major Mariaceleste Florian and chemistry major Abbie Kingkittisack, juniors.

By Carly Russell
Photo Editor

On Feb. 4, the Women in STEM Excellence, WISE, club held it's first meeting of semester. WISE members and visitors met to talk about future and upcoming events over pizza. A small raffle was also held. Whether you are a woman in STEM, or an ally, WISE is always welcoming new members. Coming up on March 26 is the SCSU Innovation Hub Connecting Students and Professionals of Color event.

Photos: Carly Russell

Innovation hub raffle prize.

Nursing majors Ayden Van Deusen and Elle Molwitz, seniors.

Club members discussing upcoming events.