BULLETIN

You may pre-qualify for an investigational treatment study.

Qualified participants may receive compensation for time and participation.

Please note that this clinical trial will use an investigational drug product, the safety and efficacy of which has not been fully evaluated by Regulatory Authorities and which has not received marketing authorization in any country.

Learn More

Behind the Headline

By Leo Nyberg

As the Yale Daily News kicked off regular production for the 2026-27 school year, student activists and protestors had a kickoff of their own. After a summer of activism against Yale's negotiations with Trump, over 300 students, professors and alumni gathered on Cross Campus to send the administration a message.

I stood in the crowd and bounced back and forth between speaking with protestors, listening to the speeches and briefly talking with administrators. In-person conversations with sources after a summer of dialing numbers and meeting on Zoom was a refreshing way to get back to in-person journalism. It turns out that the News was lucky. As I went to a press gaggle with student body president Alex William Chen '28 and actor Sam Waterston '62, I heard that some non-student reporters had been asked to leave Cross Campus by Yale public affairs officials in accordance with a Yale policy. Chen remarked that it was good news for the Yale Daily News.

Read "Hundreds Protest Potential Settlement" on page 1.

This Day in Yale History, 1985

September 4, 1985 / Drinking rules sober students

By Peter Dwoskin

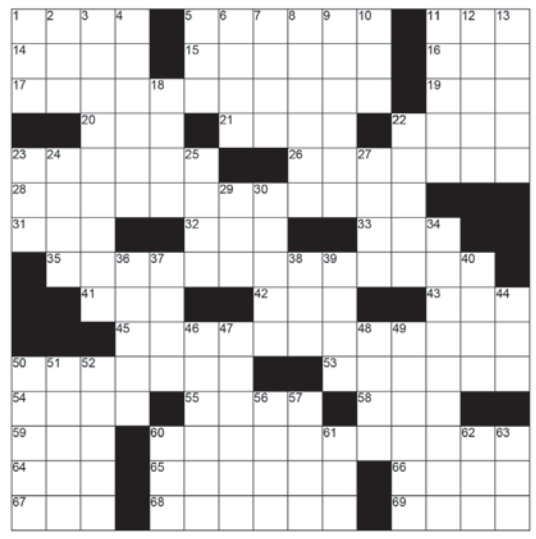

Hundreds of twenty and twenty-one-year-old students lined up in SSS 114 this week to receive drinking cards as part of the Yale administration's response to the new Connecticut drinking age of 21.

The Old Campus will be affected the most drastically as no alcohol is permitted at parties there. However, a number of parties with alcohol have already been held in the past week. The administration has not yet decided what to do about upperclassmen who are of drinking age living on Old Campus.

Puzzles

Welcome to Yale — Jack Berrien '29

ACROSS

1. Stadium sounds
5. Stellar
11. Domain of Kendrick and Drake
14. Sunburn soother
15. Christmas tree, often
16. Be in debt
17. New Haven from afar?
19. Yoga component
20. Focus of Rosalind Franklin (Abbr.)
21. What headlights might reflect at night
22. Celebratory dessert
23. Do a cobbler's job
26. Student, for example
28. Exaggerated version of New Haven?
31. The Browns, on scoreboards
32. Actress ___ de Armas
33. TV annoyances
35. Bulldogs' home concerts?
41. With 42-across, part of an unkempt group
42. See 41-across
43. Weasley of Harry Potter
45. Encouraging messages in New Haven?
50. Landed estate
53. Like some traffic
54. Behind
55. Long car trip choice?
58. Pal of Pooh
59. Monet works, for example
60. What a Bulldog might wear going west?
64. Temper tantrum
65. Large South American speckled cat
66. Wall St. figures
67. Driving aid
68. Went to sleep, with "down"
69. Early Chinese dynasty

DOWN

1. Sunbeam
2. By way of
3. Treasures
4. "Here's the thing..."
5. Lip reading alternative (Abbr.)
6. Famed famine causer, informally
7. Family diagram
8. Not so kindly
9. Medical condition causing the absence of the pupil in the eye
10. Allow
11. Anthony of the Boston Red Sox
12. Up and about
13. Flying Pan
18. Island near Java
22. Words to live by
23. Fabled flier
24. TV hillbilly ____ May Clampett
25. Cole Porter's "Well, Did You ____?"
27. Winged
29. Rock's Brian
30. Cook in oil
34. Ones with poor handwriting, perhaps
36. Onion part
37. Fatal flaws of Oedipus and Icarus
38. Droop
39. Showbiz "grand slam"
40. Caffeine source
44. Napoleonic marshal
46. Loosen, as a shoe
47. Concealed
48. Old draft deferment
49. "Holy moly!"
50. Slight breeze
51. Ominous
52. Photo finish?
56. Blend
57. Woodwind instrument
60. 1961, for Barack Obama (Abbr.)
61. Old Ford model
62. Baseball slugger's stat.
63. Org. funded by FICA

Puzzle by Ariana Borut '27

ACROSS

1 Senior advisor that may live on Old Campus, for short
6 Varnish ingredient
7 Striped stone
8 Film shots
9 Young bloke

DOWN

1 Chi Psi, e.g.
2 Like a queen
3 Tennis champion Naomi
4 Mentioned in a footnote
5 Change for a five

